

LET'S DO THEOLOGY. Resources for Contextual Theology.

Completely revised and updated edition: 2009, Mowbray (Continuum Books)

This Book is the key text for all who wish to do theology in an exciting and transformative way. Accessible and practical, whilst at the same time addressing the key questions about the nature and challenges of theology, this book will enable readers to bring together their faith and their life's issues, and also help students of theology face the challenge of how academic theology can be life-transforming.

WHAT PEOPLE HAVE SAID ABOUT THIS BOOK -

'This is a book of authentic liberation theology set within the English-speaking context: it takes instances of human experience, analyses them, reflects theologically and proposes practical ideas for transformation. I enthusiastically recommend this significant book.'

Leonardo Boff, Liberation Theologian, Brazil

'Every seminarian should engage with this book, so they can bring this clear-minded and warm-hearted approach to theology to their local congregations in the coming generations.'

Brian D. McLaren, author/speaker (brianmclaren.net)

'...a classic text, and I welcome the publication of this new revised edition. I hope that a whole new generation of Christians will be inspired to move beyond just reading theology to doing it.'

Elaine Graham, Manchester University, UK

'Christians today yearn to practice a faith that matters, rooted in context and in the dream of God, a faith that changes lives and changes the world. Laurie Green answers that cry in this powerhouse of a book. We need this book.'

Stephanie Spellers, St Paul's Episcopal Cathedral, Boston, USA

'Theological resources from Scripture onward were never meant to be hoarded. With generous and accessible hospitality Green offers this valuable gem of a book to the whole people of God.'

Fredrica Harris Thompsett, Episcopal Divinity School, Cambridge, USA

'Laurie Green's experience as teacher, pastor and agent for God's change informs every page of this accessible and challenging book ... it retains all its freshness, insight and sheer groundedness.'

Rowan Williams, Archbishop of Canterbury

'Bishop Laurie challenges the western bias of traditional theology by explaining that every theology is contextual theology ... a "must read".'

P. Mohan Larbeer, Principal of Tamilnadu Theological Seminary, India

'A tremendously encouraging book.'

Hermann Düringer, Director of the Arnoldshain Protestant Academy, Germany

'"Accessible theology" might seem like a contradiction. It's not, as Laurie Green shows us in his marvellous book. It is simple, direct, practical and wise.'

Colin R. Johnson, Anglican Bishop of Toronto
